

"MISSINGHAM BRIDGE"

BALLINA, Thursday.

The need for a new bridge at East Ballina is urgent, and the Ballina council is at present agitating for a modern structure to be built in the near future. The Department of Works has the matter in hand, and several inspections have been made. The Mayor (Ald. P. E. Tighe), speaking to a "Star" representative on the matter, stressed the efforts of the late Mr. W. T. Missingham to secure the bridge, and considered a fitting and well-earned tribute to this fine worker would be the erection of a new bridge, to be called the "Missingham Bridge." Other prominent Ballina residents consider this suggestion an excellent one.
